LOVE'S MANY LOVES.

A Curious Revelation Brought Out in Settling Up an Estate,

IN WHICH JUSTICE MAY BE DONE.

Illegal Liquer Sellers Handled by Judge and Jurymen.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS

The account of James L. Orr, admin istrator of the estate of Samuel G. R. Love, was approved in the Orphans' Court vester day. Love was a resident of Allegheny. Upon his death a couple of years ago a claim for her share was filed by Ada Oliphant, who asserted that she was Love's widow. Her claim was contested, and though it was shown that she had lived with Love and passed as his wife, she could not prove that a marriage ceremony was ever performed. She then withdrew her claim for the widow's share, and presented a bill against the estate for S3 per week wages as housekeeper for the time she lived with Love. The Court held that she had not acted

Love. The Court held that she had not acted in the capacity of a servent, and ruled out her bill for wages.

Following close upon the heels of the first claimant new comes another after the widow's portion. The last showel conclusively to Administrator Orr that she was in reality the widow of Love. She had lived with kim up to 1884, when he one day showed her a legal looking document, which he said was a divorce he had procured from her, and that she would have to leave him. Mrs. Love took her child, and, believing that she was divorced, went away. She supported herself for a time and eventually married again. She had only lived with her second husband a short time, when she learned, through friends, that Love had imposed upon her and that she had not been divorced. She immediately left her second husband, and shortly afterward Love died. She now wants to claim Love's estate for herself and child. The administrator has allowed been but the to the total the tester has allowed. self and child. The administrator has allowed her claim, but when Love's debts are all paid ner claim, but when Love's debts are all paid she will not get more than $300.

The facts brought forth by Mrs. Love tend to strengthen belief in the story of Miss Oliphant, the first claimant, who stated that she really believed that she was the wife of Love, because, if he would deceive his wife about a divorce he would deceive her about marriage.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

SING SING, N. Y., September 24. Financier Ferdinand Ward, late of Wall street, New York, has risen to the dignity of being classed as a steam job printer. His little printing office in Sing Sing prison has recently been equipped with an addition to the plant in the shape of a half-medium Gordon press. It is run by steam power, a belt being attached to the shafting which runs the sewing machines in the clothing shop overhead. Ward is highly pleased with his acquisition, and spends much time in pol-ishing it up. Heretofore he has done all his work on a little amateur trendle press. When he had a job which was too large for the size of the press he used to work it off by ingeniously printing part of it at a time. Practical printers who have visited the institution have wondered now he did some of the work, the lines being joined together so accurately. His new press allows him to print the largest blank required in the

Nothing definite in the deal will be known before the middle of December, when the options expire. None of us know the capitalists are behind the affair, whether they are English or Americans.

There will be an anvantage in putting the mines under the control of one company.

AN AMERICAN IMITATION

The Discovery of a Dead Body Matliated in the Most Approved Whitechapel Fashion-School Children the

First to Find It. CHICAGO, September 24 .- A Jack-the-Ripper case came to light in the little suburban town of Clyde, this morning. The mutilated body of a man was found lying on the prairie near that village. The body was in sections and not all of it was there. The head was neatly severed from the body and from which all the vital organs had been removed. Portions of limbs were strewed around, and fragments as from a dissecting table.

Gny Bennett, of Clyde, says: "The body was first seen by some children on their way to school yesterday morning, but the police did not hear of it until last night some time. I and another boy saw the body about 8 c'alcet. It was dark and we could not see o'clock. It was dark, and we could not see very plainly by lantern light. One-half of the man's face, as near as we could tell, had been cut off, and the skin had been removed from the upper part of the body. The hands seemed to have been cut off at the wrists, and the forces at the second init."

"Were the hands near the arms?"

"No; I think they had been put into a glass jar and covered with cotton batting. The jar seemed to have been thrown out of a wagon, and to have been broken in the fall. It was in pieces when I saw it. It was lying right alongside the road just as if it had been dumped out of a wagon in a hurry. The remains were stark naked, and presented a horrible sight lying there among the weeds."

ENTICING GIRLS TO STEAL.

Very Strong Case Made Against the Alleged Female Fagin.

CHICAGO, September 24.—Sophie Haak, the alleged female Fagin, was brought before Justice Kersten this morning. The case of the four small girls said to have been living with Mrs. Hank was also before the Justice at the same time. The mothers of the girls appeared in court, and their testimony was all to the same effect—that Mrs. Haak induced their daughters to stay from home and live with her, for what purpose they did not know. Mrs. Meyer, the mother of Emma, said that she could not any longer exercise the least influence over the erring exercise the least influence over the erring child, and said that in spite of her pleadings and warnings, Emma would go to live with Mrs. Haak.

It was proved that Emma had stolen some property and had given it to Mrs. Haak.

Mrs. Haak refused to give it up to the officers when they asked for it, but to the Court this morning she acknowledged receiving the stolen remarks from Emma Mover. She the stolen property from Emma Meyer. She denied that she had advised the girl to steal it. The girls were discharged under their promises of reformation, and the woman was held in bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

Man Sells His Wife for $10, and a Child at Balf That Sum.

CHICAGO, September 24.-There was a peculiar case before Justice Prindeville this morning. James Nicollet, a short, but good looking Italian, accused his wife, Emily, with having deserted him for Salvatore Lemor, a dark-skinned son of Italy. Emily is an American, and she had a bright-eyed little girl, of perhaps 5 years, with her. The woman said that her husband had tired of her, and had sold her to Salvatore for $10. Salvatore corroborated the statement, and the woman said further that the child was not her husband's, as he had sold it, also, for $5. Nothing was done by the Justice in regard to those matters, but Lemor was fined $30 for carrying concealed able—Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (paoriasis) first broke out on my left check, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely haldheaded; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA Remedies.

My father took me to 20 physicians who said I could not be cured. I doctored with many physicians, but got no better. After I years of suffering I began treatment with the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, 323 Fenn avenue, to whom I owe my recovery. My cough is gone. I have no dizziness, ringing in the ears, headache or night sweats any more. The pain and soreness in my stomach have left me. My food digests well, so that now no gas forms in my stomach. ## SUBSTANTIAL CLOTHING FOR THE BOYS

Our efforts to increase the durability of Boys' and Children's Clothing ought to interest every mother of both cities. So many people go crazy on price! price! price! that most dealers yield to the popular mania and sacrifice EVERY FEATURE OF PERMANENT MERIT to satisfy this clamor—it DOESN'T matter to them how rotten the linings are if YOU can't discover it until they have gotten hold of your money. THEY don't care whether the goods are all-wool or not, fast colors or unreliable, whether the fabric is serviceable or not so long as it looks sightly enough to catch your dollars. YOU CAN WHISTLE FOR YOUR SATISFACTION.

We have now on sale counter after counter of lovely Kilt Suits, nobby short-pant Suits and elegant long-pant Suits—every one of a new pattern, a taking style and a good quality. As for prices, they are marked in plain figures on every garment and we guarantee them to be the lowest in the city for the same qualities.
